Company Overview

Arawash has started the production and supply of its hygienic detergents in order to enter the global market. As people's health is directly influenced by hygienic products, a lot of precautions should be taken into consideration in this field. Arawash has identified people's needs and tastes by conducting research, and has also managed to produce high-quality products by hiring experienced experts and modern technology in this field. The quality of its products is constantly measured in equipped labs, therefore, Arawash has successfully obtained all the international certificates of ISO9001 ISO14001, ISO45001.

Business description

Soap is one of the first products manufactured in the field of detergents. Since the production of soap, a diverse range of detergents were introduced to the market. In some countries, 80 percent of all detergents are made with synthetic material. Arawash Trading Company is primarily engaged in the production and marketing of these products. This company sells detergents through wholesale and retail stores, as well as various independent distributors and licensees in the Middle East.

All company executives supervise the company from its headquarters in the Middle East. Arawash maintains a constant supervision to honor the name of the company and to ensure maintaining its quality. Arawash is making every effort to offer Middle East products to the global markets.

Vision and values

Arawash Trading Company is willing to remain a dynamic, efficient, customer-oriented and knowledge-based company that relies on modern management systems and uses opportunities in economic activities to direct its potential resources and facilities to invest in new industries. It will invest in domestic and international markets as an infrastructure for detergent industry with the best efficacy. It will also act based on global standards as well as international management systems, operating with experience, organizational expertise and the state-of-the-art equipment.
